YORK INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S WEEK 2021

We are thrilled to offer a sensitive yet exciting Programme of talks, music, exhibitions, workshops, storytelling groups, and other events to explore this year's theme of 'Women in a Time of Plague'. Acknowledging the profound effect of the Covid pandemic on the lives of women is the focal point of the Programme, placing a spotlight on women's experiences and their often precarious situations in a world where women still have to fight to be heard and respected.

Our events are run by local women, both individuals and organisations, and pulled together into this Programme by a coordinating group of volunteers. The majority of events are online, mostly on Zoom, as we are 'living in a time of plague'. Internet events are brilliant for those who would otherwise find it difficult to get to events in person, and it also allows us to foster wider national and international connections now and for subsequent years. But we are very aware that it restricts access for some for whom participating online may be difficult or downright impossible. We are attempting to mitigate some of these issues by encouraging anyone who'd like to join in an event to contact the organiser to see if there are ways of making this possible. We are also offering a free 'Beginners Guide to Zoom' as a short online session and one-page guide (see Support p.4).

For this year, as we continue living through this pandemic, we hope you find something of interest (or maybe lots of things!) in this Programme and get involved – to discuss, to celebrate, to learn, to listen, to create, and to share your experiences both within the course of York International Women's Week and beyond. Feedback welcome – see contact details on p.4.

We look forward to meeting you online this March, and to a more balanced in-person and online YIWW Programme in 2022!

With hope and warm wishes to everyone living in the pandemic, whatever your situation, from the YIWW2021 Coordinating Group: Rose Drew, Pilar Girvan, Penny Bainbridge, Marilyn Crawshaw, Margaret Everall, Kim Stephen, Kate Hignett, June Tranmer, Jamie Khoo, Candi Colburn, Ann Kaloski.

Support for those new to online events

If you like the sound of an event but have not yet tried online events (for YIWW usually Zoom, or a similar system) then we encourage you to have a go. We'll be offering a free 'Beginners Guide to Zoom' in the week before the programme starts, as well as a short Zoom Guide available on the YIWW website or by post on request via email or phone. Feel free to email us with general queries about online participation – basic questions welcome! It's also worth contacting event organisers, and they will help if they can.

Contact

Queries about specific events are best directed to the event organiser, their details are in this Programme. For general information, updates, feedback and to book for the 'Beginners Guide to Zoom' there are plenty of ways to contact the coordinating group.

Thank you

Many thanks to all event organisers featured in this Programme, who have shown determination and patience in converting face-to-face activities into online events. We are learning together how to manage this pandemic in a myriad of ways.

We appreciate people browsing this Programme in a strange year, and those who take a chance with new ways of engaging in creative and thought-provoking activities.

We are very grateful to our sponsors for funding the technical support, communication costs, and printing that enable this Programme to come together.

University of York; hrdhub@york.ac.uk; <https://www.hrdhub.org/>

	When: Live all week Where: Online zoom exhibition featuring mainly visual works of art. Videos and audio outputs will have captions in English Cost: Free to attend by booking at https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/women-activists-during-the-covid-19-crisis-tickets-137926735579 Access: Contact organiser if you have any additional needs and they will do their best to help if possible
DESCRIPTION	The online exhibition features artistic works created by women activists and artists from different parts of the world in response to the measures implemented by governments to curb the spread of Covid-19. The selected works highlight the impact that such measures have had on women, represent a cathartic tool to cope with these challenges, and emphasise the centrality of feminist intersectional struggles to build alternative futures.

The organiser hopes to arrange an online opening or closing event; do check the YIWW2021 website www.yorkwomen.org.uk for updates.

Where: Online live event via Zoom

Cost: Free to attend; book via frok.events@gmail.com or ☎ 01904 702060.
Donations please to UK Friends of Khwendo Kor (www.frok.org.uk).

Access: Contact organiser if you have any additional needs and they will do their best to help if possible

DESCRIPTION

Because our popular 'Frock for FROK' clothes-swap event cannot be held this year, we have put together a short film of women from York and northwest Pakistan sharing their pandemic experiences. If there's time we'll also show a documentary of the work of Khwendo Kor, the Pakistani women's NGO we support, and answer any questions.
Enjoy it over something to eat and drink in your own home, perhaps wearing something you bought at an earlier clothes-swap!

Cost: Free – booking on Eventbrite <https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/x/st-nicks-celebrates-yiww-with-some-light-in-the-dark-tickets-138949927975>

Access: Contact organiser if you have any additional needs and they will do their best to help if possible

DESCRIPTION

St Nicks will lead a craft demonstration on how to make a nature decorated candle holder, celebrating woman's light in the darkness. Afterwards, we will practise Trataka, the ancient art of candle gazing. This helps calm the mind, alleviating anxiety & insomnia, providing mental focus for greater clarity. There will be time to connect with others & enjoy a cuppa in the comfort of your own home. The workshop is open to anyone with their own craft materials or wanting to watch and craft later, though a candle is essential for Trataka.

Access: Bryony is happy to have conversations with potential participants and/or see if she can meet accessibility needs.

DESCRIPTION

Together we'll create a space for recognising collectively & individually what has been lost in this time of plague, the limits brought with it and the challenge of unknowns. Through group coaching and conversation, we'll come back to what really matters, acknowledge the self care that is needed at this time for our mental, physical and soulful health and identify the elements of feminine intelligence that we have to bring to the table to continue to find our way through. This is a chance to stop, see how far we have come, realise what we have learnt and replenish for the next part of the journey. Please note that coaching is not therapy. Pens and paper may be useful to have to hand.

Some people ask: 'Why the word feminist? Why not just say you are a believer in human rights, or something like that?' Because that would be dishonest. Feminism is, of course, part of human rights in general — but to choose to use the vague expression human rights is to deny the specific and particular problem of gender. It would be a way of pretending that it was not women who have, for centuries, been excluded. It would be a way of denying that the problem of gender targets women.

DESCRIPTION	Lockdown has had significant and distinct consequences for women: women have borne the brunt of home schooling and caring, job losses and increased domestic violence among others (https://wbg.org.uk/). Women have also been at the forefront of community responses. Why? Join us for the final event of the week to put questions to, and debate with, a panel of leading local female politicians <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Councillor Rosie Baker (Greens)</li><li>- Sally Duffin (Women's Equality Party)</li><li>- Councillor Anna Perrett (Labour)</li><li>- Fabia Tate (Conservatives)</li><li>- Councillor Paula Widdowson (Liberal Democrats).</li></ul> Join us for a lively and insightful 90 minutes!

And that's it for YIWW2021! We hope you've enjoyed the programme and engaged with others in ways that were stimulating and worthwhile.

Feedback is welcome – please email your constructive comments to help us make YIWW2022 even better. And if this year's programme has given you ideas for organizing an event for next year, hold on to those thoughts – alongside some of the regular favourites each year we're always on the look-out for new events and activities that explore and advance women's lives.

To go on the mailing list for the Call for Events, and be one of the first to know when the Programme for 2022 is launched please email yorkwomensvoices@gmail.com
